

Read the story.
Underline all the /long e / spellings.

The Sleepy Sheep

Eve, the sleepy sheep, was annoyed by Charlie, a baby bee. He was playing hide and seek with the fleas on her fleece.

Escaping from Charlie the bee, Eve squeezed between a cherry tree and a green beam. She breathed a sigh of relief when Charlie departed with the breeze.

Charlie reached the Queen Bee and revealed to her the story of Eve, the sleepy sheep.

The Queen Bee rallied her team to see Eve.

Eve woke up with a loud bleat, angry when she heard the buzzing bees. She was ready to scream when Charlie Bee said, "Sorry for being annoying. Here is some honey for your tea, I will leave you in peace."

Eve, the sheep was free to sleep. She began dreaming of eating a feast; cream cheese, wheat and peaches with honey from the bees.